DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-10 are allowed.
2. The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance:

In interpreting the claims, in light of the specification and the applicant's amendments filed August 17th, 2007, the Examiner finds the claimed invention to be patentably distinct from the prior art of record. The prior art does not teach all of the limitations of the independent claims in combination with the other elements presented.

The prior art of record teaches the use of knowledge management system using publishers and subscribers that interact via message passing (Omoigui, abstract). The system further teaches the use of topics within hierarchies that use wildcards to manage stored knowledge information. Other prior art systems teach the use of multicasting to transmit information to a plurality of message subscribers (Mane, abstract and fig. 3). The multicast methods include the use of a variety of protocols and subscription methods (Mane, paragraphs 0016-0020).

However, as per claims 1-10, the prior art fails to teach the system comprising receiving a subscription request that points to topic information from an interested subscriber, parsing the request to determine if the request includes a wildcard, parsing the remainder of the request for a topic string that includes a prefix and a remainder, locating a node in a topic tree defined by the prefix with the node representing a topic immediately preceding the wildcard, and instructing the subscriber to listen on a multicast address associated with the topic in the topic hierarchy which precedes the wildcard by associating the subscriber with the node in the topic tree defined by the prefix. When taken in the environment of the claim language along with all other elements presented, these claims distinguish from the prior art of record.
